The review card

Step		Question
1	The sources	Does the source exist, and does it say what the answer claims?
2	Case law and statutes	Does it exist, at the right court level and in the right wording, and is it about what the answer says?
3	Figures and dates	Does each figure match the source?
4	What is missing	What has the answer left out that would change the conclusion?
5	Tone and responsibility	Is the answer as certain as you can be, and is it your judgment?

The last two are what separate a lawyer from a proofreader.

Errors that look right

- The case with a plausible name and number that does not exist.
- The section that exists but whose wording has changed.
- The foreign rule that has crept into an answer on Swedish law.
- The deadline that applied last year.
- The summary that is correct sentence by sentence and lacks the decisive condition.
- The amount that is right in the wrong currency.
- The confident answer to a question where the law is unsettled, with no mention of the uncertainty.
